

Benchmark Magazine Recommends Illustra Edge Loitering Analytic

- Published on April 25, 2017

Steve Carney

Benchmark Magazine

Illustra cameras - features in-action: video-intelligence-analytics

Illustra Edge Analytics offer an excellent value with a number of different analytic options included with the Pro Series cameras. With discounted camera licenses on Exacq and VideoEdge, the performance-based value is undeniable.

"The Illustra IPS02D21CWIT from Tyco Security Products features linger and dwell detection: if you're looking to detect typical loitering behaviour, then the option for linger works well. This ensures that a target trying to appear as if going about their everyday activities but actually remaining in the protected area is quickly detected.

The ability to enter multiple rules into one scene is something of a bonus, but these would need to be linked via a VMS. The ability to link these in the camera would be on our wish list. The Illustra device is recommended for loitering detection." Benchmark Magazine